FINANCIAL AID

Centureon Institute offers financial assistance to eligible students. The Financial Aid Office aids students in securing financial aid to cover their educational expenses. Financial Aid representatives are available both onsite and offsite to support students in this process.

Financial aid encompasses grants, loans, and scholarships designed to help students afford their educational costs. Funding typically comes from federal and state agencies or directly from the institute itself. Eligibility for most financial aid is determined by the student's financial need, assessed using the federal government's need analysis system. This determination is based on information provided by the student and/or their family on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The specific types and amounts of financial aid available to a student are determined by federal, state, and institutional guidelines. To be considered for financial assistance from Centureon Institute, students must complete and submit the FAFSA.

The Federal Pell Grant is a federal grant awarded based on financial need and does not need to be repaid. In order to apply for the Pell Grant, students must complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The FAFSA is available on-line at <https://studentaid.gov/fsa-id/sign-in/landing>.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG):

LOANS

Federal Direct Loan Program (FDLP)

Miami Regional Institute participates in The Federal Direct Loan Program (FDLP) which allows students and their parents to borrow money to help with their educational costs. These loans must be paid back with interest.

Subsidized Direct Loan

A subsidized loan is awarded on the basis of financial need (need is the budgeted Cost of Attendance less estimated financial aid). The federal government pays interest on the subsidized loan until repayment begins and during authorized periods of deferment. Repayment begins six months after a student graduates, when enrollment drops below half-time status, or when a student withdraws from the Institute. Students' borrowers of federal loans must also satisfy exit loan counseling requirements. To apply, students should contact the Institute's Office of Financial Aid.

Unsubsidized Direct Loan

An unsubsidized loan is not awarded on the basis of need. The borrower is charged interest from the time the loan is disbursed until it is paid in full. In addition, until repayment begins and during authorized periods of deferment, the unsubsidized loan borrower has the option to pay the interest or allow the interest to accumulate. Accumulated interest will be added to the principal amount of the loan.

and will increase the amount the borrower must repay. Repayment begins six months after a student graduates, when enrollment drops below half-time status, or when a student withdraws from the Institute. Students' borrowers of federal loans must also satisfy exit loan counseling requirements. To apply, students should contact the Institute's Office of Financial Aid.

Federal Direct Parent Loan (PLUS) for Loan Program

Federal Direct Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (PLUS) loans are for parents of dependent students who want to borrow to help pay for their children's education. A mandatory credit check is completed as eligibility for this loan depends on the borrower's credit worthiness. This is an unsubsidized loan where the borrower is charged interest from the time the loan is disbursed until it is paid in full. In addition, until repayment begins and during authorized periods of deferment. Repayment begins 60 days after the loan is disbursed. For additional information, students should contact the Institute's Office of Financial Aid.

FEDERAL DIRECT PLUS LOANS (GRAD PLUS LOAN)

The U.S. Department of Education makes Direct PLUS Loans to eligible graduate or professional students through schools participating in the Direct Loan Program. To receive a grad PLUS loan, a student must be a graduate or professional student enrolled at least half-time in a program leading to a graduate or professional degree or certificate; not have an adverse credit history (unless the student meets certain additional eligibility requirements); and satisfy the general eligibility requirements for federal student aid. For additional information, students should contact the Institute's Office of Financial Aid.

To comply with the recommendations of public health authorities and ensure the health and safety of our campus, the Office of Financial Aid has limited hours for in-person service available Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.
